

Edinburgh Jan^y. 26. 1839.

My dear friends

I have the pleasure to inform you that your parcel leaves Edinburgh this day by steamer, directed to Mr. Annemann. It would not pack well into my bookseller's parcel. I hope it will reach you in safety. The letter came from Mr. Adie's two hours after you left my house. Be so kind as to send me a line when you have received the package.

Can you tell me whether Rubus Soland. is really a native of America? Pursh describes it, & Garry on Nuttall's authority says it is indigenous throughout Upper Canada & on the borders of the Lakes of the St. Lawrence. But Hooker leaves it out of his Flora entirely, having no reference to it, even as an erroneous synonyme! Under R. strigosus, he assumes that it, (R. strigosus), seems to hold the place of R. Idem, by which name probably be inferred that ~~it~~ he does not regard the latter as native, although this does not certainly follow.

I shall rejoice to know that you have got access to Pouch's Herbarium.
& that your residence in London has been altogether agreeable to you as a man of science.

The ladies desire to be very kindly remembered to you; & I beg you to believe that I am with much regard & esteem

Very faithfully yours

J. Greville

I have taken a list of the Algae that I have sent you, in order that I may render the collection more complete, which I shall be able to do in another season. I shall then send the confidential species.
